

South Tewksbury Boy "Steals" Second Tourney

Paul Lipp Wins Two Bouts, But Leaves*
Before Final Test—Hundreds Turned Away

By FRANCIS SARGENT

LOWELL—Highlighted by a South Tewksbury youngster who didn't even win a title—because he left too soon, thinking he had cleaned up his class with two straight wins—The Lowell Sun's New England Golden Gloves tourney took up last night right where it left off two weeks back and a packed house of more than 3500 fans thrilled to a Memorial Auditorium 20-bout card which included seven knockouts and plenty of gore.

Refusing to heed the published notice that the show was sold out in advance, hundreds of ticketless fans joined the parade to the Auditorium only to be greeted with news that the ticket supply had been exhausted and there was little hope for any late comers. However, these hopeful fans hung on until mid-way through the show as the capacity of the stately Auditorium was taxed for the second time in as many weeks.

Lipp Standout

Young Paul Lipp, a 160-pound novice from South Tewksbury, loomed as the standout of the show. This newcomer, fighting for the first time and wearing a pair of sneakers in preference to the customary ring shoes, opened with a unanimous decision win over Jim Sandy, of the Navy, and then went on to gain a second-round kayo win over Ted Brooks, also of the Navy. Both of these fights were slam-bang affairs with Lipp showing no sign of strategy or technique but merely a wicked swing and an utter dislike for the Navy.

After polishing off these two foes, Lipp thought he had cleaned up everything in his class and headed home, unaware that he still had a bout coming up with Paul Cook, of North Billerica. Cook had drawn a bye in the trials and gained a decision over Thomas Zipps, of Lowell, in the semi-finals.

When it came time for the final, Lipp was nowhere to be found and Cook was automatically handed the 160-pound honors by default. It was a pity for Lipp to lose this way because the youngster had brought down the house in both his trial and semi-final bouts and fans were looking forward to his reappearance in the final, where he undoubtedly would have rendered an excellent account of himself. However, one of the prime rules of boxing is that a fellow must be in the house to win a title. Golden Gloves followers are almost certain to see more of this Lipp fellow because he's sure to drop around again when he can stay longer.

Kayo Start and Finish

five novice and one Class A title scrap. There were scientific battles, toe-to-toe slugfests and hit-and-duck affairs, crowding in everything that goes with a top-notch show of the calibre of the Golden Gloves tourney.

The top bout of the night was the Lipp-Brooks semi-final, which had fans on their feet all the way. Brooks took the offensive at the outset and appeared to have Lipp on the run but the latter rallied to send his foe wheeling at belltime. Came the second round and Brooks seemed to freshen up. He came out like a lion and tore right into Lipp but the latter fought off the threat with a toe-to-toe counter attack which dropped Brooks for a count of five before another windmill right floored the Navy battler for the full count.

This bout really brought down the house. The game little guy from South Tewksbury got a big hand as he left the ring and even the feminine fans seemed to appreciate the stalwart showing of the suburbanite. The only regret was that the fans didn't see more of Lipp, who forgot he had a final engagement with Paul Cook. However, in Lipp's behalf it must be said that while he might have forgotten the fans, the fans didn't forget him and the South Tewksbury boy would undoubtedly have topped any post-show ballot for the "most popular" boxer of the night.

Sala True to Form

Dominic Sala, New England 118 pound champion, ran true to form in his only showing of the night when he gained a unanimous decision over Earl Carroll, of Haverhill.

Flo, Powlowitz Battle To Draw

Crowd Boos Verdict; Girard, Kid Chocolate And Pelletier Win

In an unpopular decision booed by a fair-sized crowd, Folrant Desmarais, 137, of Manchester, gained a draw verdict in his 10-round battle against Henry Powlowitz, 139, of Hartford, Conn., last night at the Recreation Center.

Many of the fans were of the opinion that the Hartford Hurricane had won the bout.

Continually fighting from a crouch, the Hartford battler never gave the Queen City fighter an opportunity to land a telling blow. The bout was fast throughout, with Powlowitz outscoring Flo continually in the in-fighting. No knock-downs were scored by either fighter.

The three-way voting on the contest found Pal Reed voting for Flo, Judge Al Mersman for the Hartford lad, while Judge Francis Geronmonty called it a draw.

In the undercard, featuring all six-rounders, Joe Girard, 160, Worcester, Mass., knocked out George Gardner, 167, Manchester, in 1:08 of the first round. Kid Chocolate, 154, Boston, was awarded a TKO win over Roger Goodrich, 154, Hudson, when Goodrich was unable to answer the bell for the second round.

In the opening six, George Pelletier, 180, Dover, won a unanimous decision over Mike Gagne, 186, Spencer, Mass.

Boston Garden Main Event to Jannazzo

Sharpshoots Way to Unanimous Decision Over Anzalone

BOSTON, April 15 (UP)—Welterweight Izzy Jannazzo of Brooklyn, N. Y., today counted his first victory in a Boston ring after standing off the wild charges of Larry Anzalone of Lodi, N. J., for 10 rounds and sharpshooting his way to a unanimous decision.

Anzalone, 156 1-4, carried the fight from the opening bell to the fifth round at Boston Garden last night, but from then on Jannazzo, 151 1-2, ducked his younger opponent's erratic barrage of lefts and rights and won going away.

In a pair of 10-round semifinals, Burlie Lannier, 166 1-2, Philadelphia won on a foul in two from Johnny Seaman, 167, Quincy; Saverio Turiello, 155 1-2, New York decisioned Frankie Young, 157, New Haven, Conn.

Scheduled sixes saw Eddie De Angelis, 126, Revere technically knock out Cocky Davis, 131, Worcester (4); Bobby Gunther, 136, New York knocked out Jake Desautels, 141, Dover, N. H. (3).

honors in the first show, defeating Tom Flammia, of Haverhill.

The heavyweights gave the fans a thrill. Joe Brown, a husky North Abington boy who lost out in the opening show, gained the title last night. He scored a unanimous decision over Robert Girard, a Lynn battler, in a hard-bitting, give-and-take three-rounder. Girard had decisioned Fred Yarborough, of the Navy, to win the right to meet Brown.

Two Lowell boys emerged with titles last night, both in novice competition. George Shanahan took down the 126-pound honors and Al Fitzgerald copped the 135-pound crown. Each of these boys had to win only one fight to take top honors in his class. Shanahan gained a split decision over Robert Vines, of Haverhill, in his sole appearance. Both judges voted for Shanahan with Referee Jimmy McCarron giving the nod to Vines.

Fitzgerald had a tough time edging Ralph Beaulieu, of Dracut, in his lone showing. This was a hard fought affair with both boys giving their all but Referee Al "Red" Priest and Judge Shaughnessy voted for the local boy with Judge Colmer going the way of Beaulieu.

Cocozza Whipped

The usually clownish Mike Cocozza, of Haverhill, was back in action but drew as his foe the too-talented Eugene McIntyre, 160-pound New England titlist. Cocozza attempted his pranks but found McIntyre in no mood for fooling. The Boston redhead went right to work and piled up a lead with his steady, in-fighting, brought about by Cocozza's constant clinching. There was no doubt about this one as McIntyre put the verdict in the ice box early.

Alfred Mattei of Worcester and Howard Kane, of Arlington, topped the 175-pounders. Mattei took down novice honors in this class, decisioning George Soukaskas, of Lowell, in his semi-final bout and stopping Henry LaRoe, of this city, in the first round of the final bout of the night.

The crowd went for the LaRoe knockout because Henry had won his semi-final bout via the knockout route over John White, of the U. S. Navy and there were some fans who figured LaRoe put across the winning blow while White was on his knees. LaRoe did appear over anxious in belting White when the latter dropped to the canvas but the officials saw nothing wrong with the bout and they are the boys to judge. However, fans applauded loudly and long when Mattei polished off LaRoe in the first round of the final after dropping him five times with vicious blows to the head.

Kane Wins

Kane had to fight only once for his 175-pound open honors, gaining a unanimous decision over John Kline, of Medford, in another slugfest. Kline proved a willing battler but Kane was the steadier performer of the two and made his punches count. He built up a steady lead, leaving no doubt as to the victor.

Truman Marshall, whose name sounds like a cabinet meeting, proved the cream of the crop in the 118-pound novice competition. This boy scored two knockouts to win his class. In the semi-final he stopped Tommy McNamara, of Lowell, after one minute and 37 seconds of the third round. Marshall man-handled McNamara in the clinches, tossing the local boy wrestling style several times before putting across the "sleeper" in the third canto. In the final Marshall scored a TKO victory over Bill Chebba, of Boston, after 55 seconds of the second round when Referee McCarron called the bout because of the continued helplessness of Chebba.

Howard Lord, of Malden, copied a split decision over Sheldon Seavey, of Haverhill, to win the 126-pound open honors. This was a close bout all the way with the Malden boy staging a belated drive which supplied the edge voted him by Referee Joe Zapustas and Judge Shaughnessy.

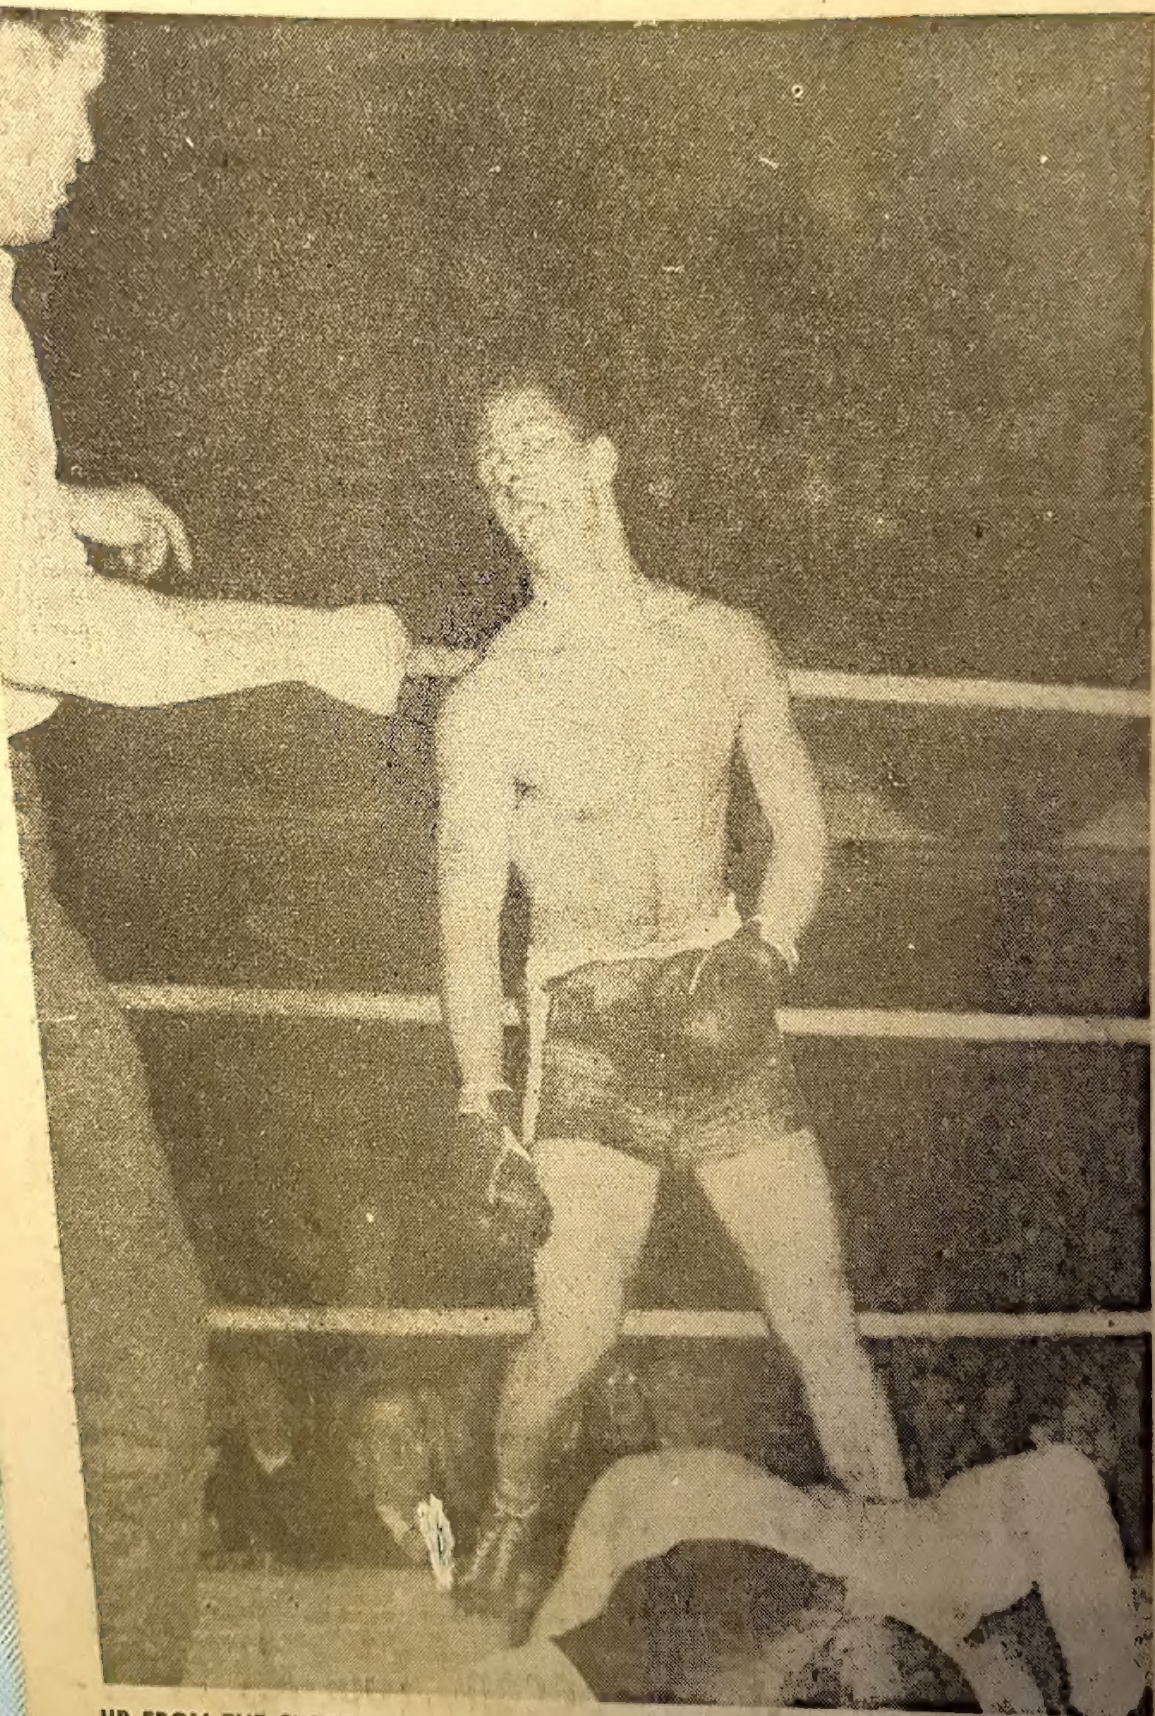

O'Neil Easiest Winner

The boxer who had the easiest time winning was William O'Neil, of Boston, who copped 118-pound open honors without entering the ring. There were three entries in this class and O'Neil drew a bye in the semi-final. Tom Flammie, of Haverhill, won a unanimous decision over Tom McGee, of Lynn, to earn the right to compete in the finals but in racking up the win the Haverhill boy suffered a hand injury, which forced him to default to O'Neil in the final.

Paul Cook, who won the 160-pound novice title by default from Lipp, won the right to compete in the finals by gaining a unanimous decision over Thomas Zipps, of Lowell, in a semi-final bout. Cook was the aggressor all the way and had a second-round knockdown to his credit.

Again it was a mighty successful show with everything the fans could ask for, except more seating room, tossed in. It was definite proof that the first show, which swept the city by storm, was no "one-night" flare-up. It was an action-packed program from start to finish, proving once again that these simon pure scrappers give the fans exactly what they want...fight, fight and more fight and speaking of more fights there'll be another super dish of the same stuff at the Auditorium Monday night, Jan. 27, when the third in the series of fight shows will be presented in practically the same setting with seats once again at a premium.

Lowell Sun Tuesday January 14 1947

UP FROM THE FLOOR—After taking a terrific beating in the first round, Paul Lipp of South Tewksbury made a terrific comeback in the second frame of his bout with Tom Brooks last night and the result is shown here as the winner stands over his fallen opponent who was down for the count. This was undoubtedly one of the best bouts of the night.

Ortiz and Bolvin Set

One Pound Difference in Tomorrow's Rivals

BOSTON, June 28 (UP)—With a pound of flesh separating them, world bantamweight champion Manuel Ortiz of El Centro, Cal., and featherweight Larry Bolvin of Providence, R. I., wound up training today for their 10-round match at Braves field tomorrow night that opens the big-time eastern outdoor boxing season.

Ortiz, who has been working out nearly a month at a gymnasium here, tipped the scales at an even 126 pounds while Bolvin's forces reported from Camp Ahoy in Coventry, R. I., that he weighed in at 125, after his last heavy drill.

Both boxers will hold light conditioning sessions today to keep in tune for the match in which the winner is promised two bouts with world featherweight champion Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn. one of them with the title on the line.

More than 10,000 fans are expected to storm the Braves field gates for the fight that brings boxing back to the city after nearly two months absence.

Boxing Commission Suspends Canadian

BOSTON, June 28 (AP)—Marcel Fournier, lightweight boxer of Montreal, Canada, has been suspended indefinitely and John Farlas, boxing manager of Fall River, has been reinstated, the Massachusetts Boxing commission announced today.

The commission said action against Fournier was taken by the National Boxing association and the Montreal Athletic commission.

"Blond Tiger" Gets Chance In Bout With Constantino

Lowell Campaigner Tackles "Lulu" Tonight at Freeport, L. I. Stadium

NEW YORK—Facing the biggest chance of his career as a feather and junior lightweight, Roland Frechette, "The Blond Tiger" of Lowell, goes into the ring against Lulu Costantino, title challenger, tonight at the Freeport, L. I. stadium as the underdog but with plenty of confidence that he can score an upset.

The Tiger, veteran of many club fights in the Lowell and Boston orbit, meets Costantino after a series of kayo victories in New Jersey and Rhode Island rings. He is handled by Sully Emmett of Boston, an astute worker, who has brought many boys along in the lighter classes.

In the Tiger's last start in his home ring, he won a verdict over veteran Freddy Guilbeault in the semi-final to Jimmy Mulligan's kayo of Larry Kellum of New Jersey. He has been training at Stillman's gym, where he is said to have made a good impression on the boys from Jacob's beach. As he quit training, it was reported that the Tiger weighed 127 3-4 and Costantino 131 1-4.

Arthur Donovan Sues Movie Company for $25,000

NEW YORK, June 28. (INS)—Arthur Donovan, the fight referee today asked $25,000 damages from the Stadium Pictures corporation for depicting him in a "foolish, unnatural and undignified manner." Donovan objected to the "shots" of him included in the motion picture, "Kings of the Ring," showing the history of boxing for the last fifty years. Donovan claimed slow motion scenes in the picture made him look ridiculous and held him up to public contempt, causing him to suffer "a great anxiety of mind, humiliation and mortification."

CHICAGO, June 20 (UP)—Willie Pep, featherweight champion, and Willie Joyce, Gary, Ind., have been signed for a 10-round fight July 7 at Comiskey park. Each will fight at 134 pounds.

Ortiz and Bolvin May Draw 20,000

Advance Ticket Data Indicates Big Crowd at Braves Field June 29

BOSTON, June 22 (INS)—World Bantamweight Champion Manuel Ortiz, of El Centro, Calif., and hard-hitting Larry Bolvin of Providence, R. I., will draw a crowd of 20,000 fans to Braves field when they meet in a 10-round bout on June 29, according to advance ticket data that was released today by Andy Callahan A. C. promoter Eddie Mack.

Champions usually draw a crowd in the Hub, Mack said, but punching fighters, like Ortiz, whose dynamite fists have won him national repute, and heavy wallopers like Bolvin, make fan appeal certain.

Bolvin has done most of his boxing in New England. But his record indicates he is more than a "local boy making good." Larry knocked out Joey Archibald in four rounds when Archibald was a titleholder and holds a decision over another boy who held the featherweight crown, Jackie Wilson. Twice Bolvin knocked out nationally-known Tony Costa.

Ortiz trimmed Lou Salica to win 118-pound honors and is out to punch his way to the top of the 118-pound honors and is out to

He is a fast-moving aggressive boxer who should act as an excellent foil to the rushing Bolvin. Ortiz will be spotting Bolvin a few pounds in weight which adds to the uncertainty of the result and makes the bout a tossup on predicting a winner.

New England Sports Gossip

BOSTON, June 22 (AP)—Waltham's personable Eddie Quinn, who cleaned up big promoting wrestling in Montreal, has signed on ex-Heavyweight Champ Jack Sharkey as matchmaker and plans to give his adopted city a taste of big-time boxing this summer... There are a couple of other Montreal boxing promoters who have been operating for several years, but the popular Quinn does not regard them as serious competitors . . . Sharkey has been refereeing in Montreal on and off for several years and is highly regarded by all of the racial groups in that Cosmopolitan city....

Almost every boxer who trains outdoors boasts that he spends most of his time chopping wood... One of the few who could prove it is Larry Bolvin, who meets Manny Ortiz, the bantamweight titlist, here next Thursday . . . Bolvin has blisters on his hands, just where an axe handle would make them . . .

ALTHOUGH THE NUMBER OF NIGHT GAMES IN THE major leagues has been set at 204, don't be too surprised if that is increased...before the 1944 schedules have been completed...the St. Louis Cardinals and St. Louis Browns have already made application to Commissioner Keneshaw M. Landis to increase their designated 21 games...and it is understood that not only will he act favorably on the increase...but may even take the ban off altogether for the duration, allowing the clubs to play as many night games as they can agree on...this will be baseball's gesture to the defense workers, we presume.

Beau Jack Tells a Story

Here's a story that Beau Jack really gets a "kick" out of... probably you will, too...as he says, "after I weighed in for my second fight with Bob Montgomery in Madison Square Garden last fall, little Chick Wergeles, my co-manager, took me to dinner...Chick ordered two big steaks, kind of rare...after we ate them he told me to order dessert... 'you're fightin' tonight,' said Chick, 'so you can have a dish of ice cream'...then he turned to the waiter, 'don't bring him nothin' fancy, just plain vanilla ice cream'... 'yes, sir,' said the waiter, 'and what are you having, sir?'...my eyes popped out when Chick replied, 'bring me a double order of ice cream and two hunks of apple pie...I ain't fightin' nobody, notime!'"

Lamotta Gets TKO Win

Kochan Victim in Second Round

DETROIT, Nov. 4, (UP)—Jake Lamotta, New York middleweight, scored a technical knockout over George Kochan last night in the ninth round of the main bout of a fight card in which Sergt. Joe Louis, the world heavyweight champion, chalked up a two-round knockout over Johnny Denson of Indianapolis.

It was Lamotta's second consecutive victory over Kochan. Last September, he punched out a decision over Kochan in a hectic 10-round battle which veteran boxing observers said was the best bout ever staged in Detroit.

Lamotta's short, hard punches began to take effect on the former merchant seaman as early as the third round and he won every frame from then on.

The squat Lamotta opened a cut over Kochan's eye in the fifth round and he kept jabbing it at every opportunity until the referee halted the bout in the final seconds of the ninth with Kochan hanging onto the ropes with blood streaming from his face.

Louis KOs Denson

Sergt. Louis, looking a little fat, scored an easy knockout over Denson despite the fact that the two were using 14-ounce gloves. Denson went down for the count under a flurry of lefts and rights in one minute and 30 seconds of the second round.

Wright Named Challenger for Pep

NEW YORK, Aug. 16. (UP)—Albert (Chalky) Wright, veteran Los Angeles Negro fighter, was named the number one challenger for the featherweight crown now held by Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., by the New York state boxing commission today.

Pep won the title from Wright two years ago by a decision. Since that time he has been in the navy and has been discharged and resumed his fighting career.

Washington Bout
Draws But 8000

WASHINGTON, June 22 (AP)—Henry Armstrong, one of the biggest little men in ring history, vowed again today to continue fighting,

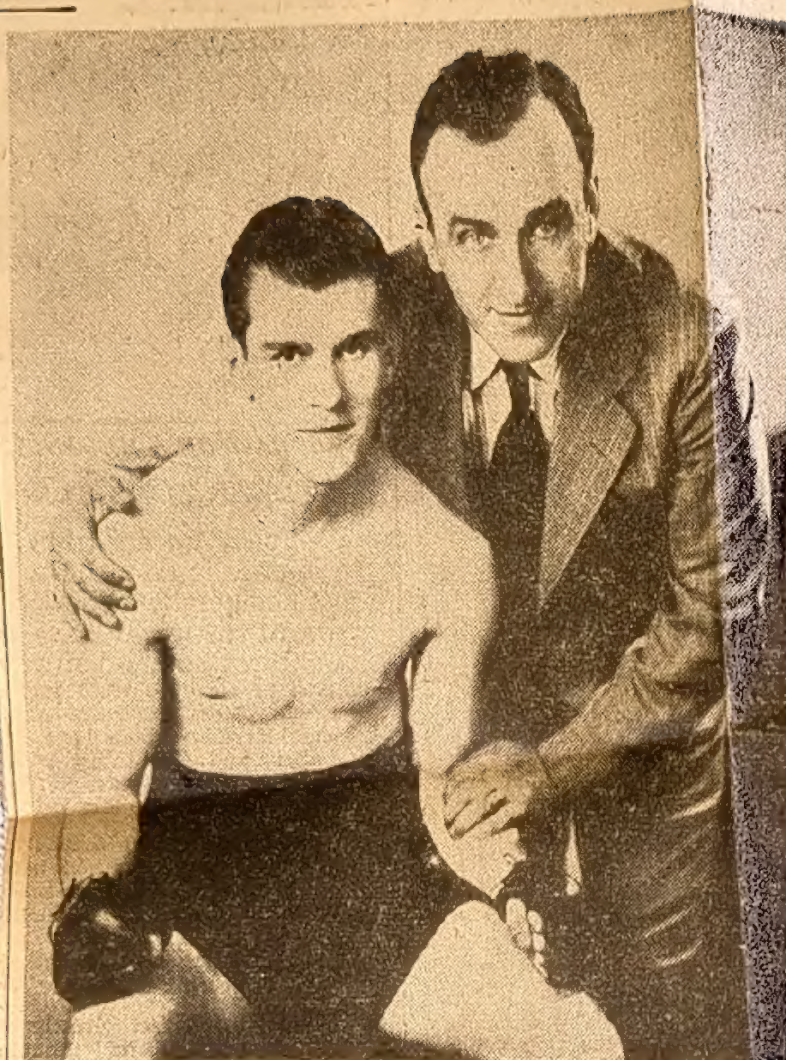

"As long as I can win—and make money out of the game."

"I like boxing, and apparently the fans like me," he said. "I'm going to stay in the game until they quit paying to see me. When the gate receipts drop, then I'll know it's time to quit."

Henry decisioned Nick Latsios, an almost unknown Greek-American lad from Alexandria, Va., over a 10-round route last night. About 8000 spectators paid to see the bout. In previous appearances here and elsewhere he's attracted far more of the ring faithful.

Armstrong, the only man who ever held three world championships at the same time, currently is campaigning to regain the welterweight crown he once held along with those of the featherweight and lightweight divisions.

Sam Michael and the Fifth Ranking Featherweight Drop in to Say "Hello"

By Frank Moran

LOWELL—Sam Michael and "Lefty" La Chance dropped in this office to say, "hello" yesterday morning.

That probably doesn't seem awfully important but it may become just a bit more interesting when it is explained that Sam Michael, a former Lowell man, is the manager of La Chance who is the fifth ranking featherweight in the country.

Beats World's Champ

The reason for their appearance in this city yesterday was that they stayed overnight at Michael's mother's home here Tuesday night. It so happens that earlier Tuesday evening, La Chance scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Phil Terranova, the world's featherweight champion, in Hartford, Conn.

La Chance, a likeable youngster (he's 21 years old) didn't have too much to say about himself, but Michael talked plenty about his protege and he should for the Lewiston, Me., lad is really one of the best featherweights in the country. Only Willie Pep, Sal Bartolo, Terranova and Chalky Wright are rated above him in the ring ratings.

Formerly Lived Here

Although Michael has made his home in Lewiston, Me., for the past 18 years, he is exceptionally well known in this city. A resident of the Middlesex street district for a number of years, Michael left this city and went to Maine where he now makes his home. He is in business there, manages La Chance and is the promoter of the weekly boxing shows in that city. Lewiston is considered one of the principal cities on the New England fight circuit so that gives you an idea of just how busy this Michael fellow is. He's a great fellow, has an unusually pleasant personality and is a true sportsman.

His mother, sisters and brother make their home at 8 Marshall street.

featherweight, bore a few of the marks about the face from his fight the previous night with the world's champion, but outside of that was in great shape. The split forehead that he suffered in a recent fight with Sal Bartolo was much in evidence, too. It was a butt by Bartolo that caused the injury and which necessitated that bout being stopped and Bartolo given the decision.

Fights Shans Monday

Michael and La Chance left here yesterday to go to Boston to talk with Promoters Jack O'Brien and Eddie Mack about La Chance's fight with Cleo Shans in Boston next Monday night. Shans, one of the best feathers in the country, has moved into New England in an effort to gain prestige by knocking off La Chance and any other of the leading contenders who may be available. La Chance respects Shans and says, "he's a good boy (Shans), and it should be a good fight."

Joins Marines Tuesday

The fight next Monday night will be LaChance's last ring appearance for the duration. Tuesday morning he leaves for Parris Island to begin training as a member of the U. S. marine corps. He is married and the father of a little daughter, but as he said yesterday, "There are millions of guys just like me, sacrificing their lives. I'm no better than they are, and I feel that my place is with them. I'm supposed to be a fairly good fighter. I intend to find out if I really am."

And as his manager, Michael said, "Lefty is just like a son to me. I gave him his first fight and I've guided him through 136 fights, 19 of which he lost. I'll miss him plenty, but I want him to take part in the greatest fight of his career."

You can understand, they're two

Here he is training Mike O'Neill of Chelmsford for the Sun Charities' Golden Gloves.
